Abstract: Someone tries to fabricate the actual fact. Someone tries to fabricate the fabricated fact. Then it becomes another fabricated fact. It is an endless drama of an infinite episode. Rumour falls in this category. As such rumour always remains far from actual. Actual is one and singular. Rumours are many and plural in number. As such rumours are the outcome of manufactured events. This is either actual real or real actual or both simultaneously.

Keywords: Actual, Existing, Fact, Real, Current, Emphasize

ARTICLE

Actual means existing in fact. It implies real. For example: The estimate was much less than the actual cost.

It is existing now. It is current e.g., using actual income to measure expected income.

It is existing in fact or reality e.g., actual events; actual and imagined conditions.

It is not false or apparent e.g., actual costs.

It is used for emphasis. For example: This is the actual room in which my grandfather was born.

It is existing or occurring at the time e.g., caught in the actual commission of a crime.

Any event is the outcome of either single or many events thus involved. Actual is the ultimate status of anything either abstract or concrete. It is the summation of different resultant forces.

Actual or reality may or may not favor always. Favor pleases. Disfavor pains. Reality sometimes pleases. It sometimes pleases not. Man always tries for good. But outcome is not always in his control. Sometimes situation controls him. Sometimes he can control the situation. To control the situation expertise is required. All are not experts. Experts always are numbered. As such successful persons are numbered.

A student tries for good result. This endeavor has three outcomes. In the first case he may get more than expectation. In the second case he may get less than expected. In the third case he gets what he expected actually. The third type of student is the most judicious among all students. He has correct assessment regarding self. It needs through knowledge of the concerned matter. It is equally true in any matter of the world. Such a person is very confident actually.

Similarly an unemployed person may get better job or lower job or exact job what he actually thought. In case of better assignment luck favors. In case of bad job luck favors not.

A confident person depends on effort. He defies existence of luck i.e., good luck, bad luck or sad luck. He denies to utter "best of luck". He is the real hero. Actually such a personality is rare.

Job satisfaction is very crucial in the market of employment. Very few persons get it. Many persons earn much money, but they do not get job satisfaction. Someone runs after money. To them money is all and everything. Money is their job satisfaction. Someone leaves a job and joins another assignment that offers pleasure but pays less. Such a person is interested for classical success rather than commercial one. To them money is a must. But it is not the sole aim to such an elevated soul.

Someone joins an inferior job to combat with the hard reality. Someone does not join the lower job. He again prepares for better job and be successful. He is very confident. He argues that if he joins the lower job then he will not get time for better preparation. Both the strategies have merit and demerit simultaneously.

Chance comes once. An intelligent person avails it. As such intelligent person always remains ahead everywhere in every age. Degree of success depends upon the judicious decision in any matter. This decision varies person to person that makes individual difference.

If one can enjoy success then he must have to bear the pain of failure since life is a cocktail of both good and bad events in different ratios. A wise person remains indifferent in both the situations. The joy of a lay man knows no bound when his luck favors. He is engaged to celebrate it. He simply wastes time. Similarly he laments in case of failure as well. Also he wastes time. Thus he wastes time in both the situations.

Success is difficult. More difficult is to hold it for long. Most difficult is to get repeated success. Very few people can be its owner. Only a wise is the ever companion of success. A wise seldom runs after money. Rather money runs after him. Money follows him like shadow. It is his classical success having commercial essence. It is really an art. One has to acquire it. All are not artist. All cannot be artist. All are not destined to be artist. This answers why we notice few successful persons around us.

Actual is alias and akin to truth. Truth is like unattainable ideal. Someone likes to be ideal and follows Ideal Avenue. It is a time consuming project. Someone likes to follow short cut method. He may get it but he cannot hold it for long. He loses it early. Here bondage is the factor.

Bondage binds. It does not grow early. It needs time. It demands time. He who can spare time becomes the owner of it. As per physics the thing which is heated quickly loses heat early. Similar is the case of bondage. They say, "Rome was not build in a day". Similarly, nothing good can be achieved overnight.

There are two types of people. The first category is always ready to welcome actual whether it favors' him or not. The second category declines to accept the reality if it does not favor him. The first category is wise and the second category is a fool.

Life is a cocktail of good and bad events which appear periodically. They appear automatically and disappear automatically like seasons of the year. It is like eternity which is inevitable in nature. It cares none. Hears never. Dares no body. Defies all and everything. It simply sweeps by its infinite force.

Actual is singular. It is one and identical in nature. False is plural and infinite in numbers. Both are diagonally opposite in characteristic in nature and behavior.

An honest person always pleads for actual and moves with actual. He hates dishonesty. He welcomes loss for the sake of truth. He wants not to be millionaire following dishonest means. He prefers to stay in the hut instead of staying in the palace of lies and liars. To him honesty is the best policy.

An honest person searches for actual thing. He always accepts his deserving share. He does not cheat anybody. Also he wants not to be cheated.

Such an intelligent person knows if he holds more than his legitimate share he will have to leave the excess amount in course of time.

Actual means truth. It implies light. Opposite of actual is false. False means darkness. Someone likes light. They go from darkness to light. They are blessed souls. They awake just with the sunrise. They sleep as the sun sets. The other category cannot thereby does not like light. They go from light to darkness. They are so cursed. They rise with the sunset and go to sleep as the sun peeps in the east. The first category is courageous to face the truth. The second category is basically coward. They cannot bear the spectrum of honesty.

CONCLUSION

Someone tries to fabricate the actual fact. Someone tries to fabricate the fabricated fact. Then it becomes another fabricated fact. It is an endless drama of an infinite episode. Rumour falls in this category. As such rumour always remains far from actual. Actual is one and singular. Rumours are many and plural in number. As such rumours are the outcome of manufactured events. This is either actual real or real actual or both simultaneously.
