OF REQUIREMENT

By

Corresponding author: Dibakar Pal, M. Phil

ABSTRACT: Requirement is a condition. Better it is to call it pre-condition. In case of love time is a pre-condition which is called attention. Much time is required to conquer the head and heart of the lovers. If the fiancée does not get due attention she simply leaves the partner. The fiancée hates to wait. So pre-arrival is her requirement. Also departure depends upon her sweet will. Pre-paid and post-paid are two modern terminologies. Modern lovers use and misuse both the tools. Both are required to fulfill their desire.

INTRODUCTION

Creative writing is based more on manifestation rather than on expression. It does not inform, rather it reveals. So it bears no reference. The best creative writing is critical, and the best critical writing is creative. This article is an outcome of thinking about creative writing meant for a general readership. As such, I have adopted a free style methodology so that everyone can enjoy the pleasure of reading. As you might know, Francis Bacon (1561-1626), the immortal essayist, wrote many essays namely 'Of Love', 'Of Friendship', 'Of Ambition', 'Of Studies', and so on. The multiple-minded genius correctly pointed out that all the words of the dictionary can be used as themes for essays. But little has been done since his death to continue or finish his monumental task. Bacon's unique individual style of presentation ignited my imagination and encouraged me to write creative essays as a method of relieving a wide range of emotions through catharsis.

Requirement is a thing that is needed or wanted. For example: Choose the type of window that suits your requirements best.

It is a thing that is compulsory. It is a necessary condition. For example: Applicants must satisfy the normal entry requirements.

It is something that you must do. For example: A good degree is a minimum requirement for many jobs.

It is something essential to the existence or occurrence of something else.

Necessary and sufficient is a condition of any event to take place. Mere presence will not guarantee the happening of something. Quantum or activity i.e. involvement is a must. Also the degree of involvement matters to materialize the event.

Requirement is a personality trait. It is unique. It varies person to person. Judgment of requirement and time of requirement are very important.

The proverb goes, "Strike the iron when it is hot". Here time is the prime factor. Time management helps to occur the event easily. Hot iron helps to get the desired shape with little effort. Cold iron needs greater effort. The wise knows it. Accordingly he avails the opportunity. The fool knows it not. The callous sits idle when the iron is hot and strikes the iron when it is cold. He tries in vain to give the iron the desired shape thus loses both the ways. The lesson is desired shape cannot be obtained if effort is less than required.

A weak person cannot be successful due to less activity. A lazy person cannot be successful due to lacking in required activity. A poor person cannot do anything due to poverty. An over confident person cannot do anything successfully since he cannot show his expertise timely.

Someone asks for tea or coffee to eat bread. Someone may swallow bread with water. Someone may eat bread without any liquid. So requirement of different persons are different. This requirement may change from person to person. Someone eats bread only if he cannot afford the cost of a tea or coffee. The most interesting point is to note that that very person accepts tea or coffee if it is offered free of cost. Again someone does not accept it even it is offered without any charge. It seems the concerned person is either health conscious or status conscious or both simultaneously. Further, if the person is a miser who may not accept in fear of reciprocation under etiquette or compulsion.

To learn anything dedication is required. It is a must. With scattered attention not only lesson nothing can be achieved. He who knows this requirement or pre-condition becomes successful. Diverted souls remain in the darkness of ignorance. Their lives remain un-illuminated forever. If they can discover the cause of their misfortune and be active to overcome their ignorance and do according to the requirement of any event only then they can be successful. To remove stalemate condition enormous activity is required. It is the business of an energetic soul seldom of a lazy guy.

Nothing happens automatically. Effort is required to happen anything. As such an intelligent person always inquires about the requirements i.e. terms and conditions of anything to be achieved. He tries to do anything fulfilling all pre-requisites. Full preparation confirms full outcome.

The requirement for good outcome is good effort. Similarly, great effort confirms great result. They say where goodness ends greatness begins. If someone expects good behavior then he must be polite. For tasty cooked food good ingredients are required. The less sugar the less sweet. To render the food more sweet more sugar is required. It is the thumb rule of sweetness.

There are two types of persons.

The first category tries through proper channel. If he gets through honest means he accepts. If he does not get it as per rule he never adopts unfair means. He never indulges corruption or dishonesty. He values morality. Ethics is his guiding force.

The second category from the very beginning enquires the illegal avenue to achieve anything. He either tries to achieve it by force or through bribe or a cocktail of both. He wants to achieve by short cut avenue. This short cut strategy sometimes cut short his life. He knows it very well yet he hankers after to achieve anything by any means fair or foul. Whether he can enjoy it or not it matters little. He seldom bothers for it. It seems he suffers from holding instinct which is a mental disease.

Requirement is not static. It is a dynamic concept. It varies from person to person. It varies with time also. What is required today may increase or decrease tomorrow. Obviously it may remain unchanged for the time being.

Someone prefers to live with minimum requirements. He likes to lead a simple life spending for bare necessity only. He shows lackadaisical attitude against luxury living. He considers it simply wastage of money only. He is anxious for uncertain future. So he wants to save for rainy days. He is afraid if none helps him in crisis period. He has bitter experience that in danger none responds and comes forward for help. Someone likes to live decently. His requirement is standard. He consumes as a gentle man should. But he does not spend beyond capacity. He likes not to showcase him.

Someone likes luxurious living. He spends lavishly. Comfort is his single agenda. He wants to drink life to the lees. He purchases anything with higher or any amount of price. He suffers from holding instinct. He does not care for cost. Someone prefers to bear the pain of hunger than spending. He bears self-torture. He is a miser. He faces misery for his attitude. He neither spends for himself nor does he spend for others. He likes to save than spending. He prefers savings than debt. He honors savings. He hates debt. Savings is a blessing. Debt is a curse. Since he is a miser he faces ill-fame. He bears it. He has to bear it. He is bound to bear it. But seldom he bothers it. Everybody avoids him. Also he avoids everybody lest he has to spend. None loves him. Everybody hates him. He argues that he wants not to be cursed after his death. So he will keep cash and kind before leaving this world. He was a living liability. But he wants not to be a living liability further rather wants to be a living asset after his death. He wants not to be a liability further after his demise. He did not donate even a single farthing during entire tenure of his life. But after his death his property is looted by mob. Public gains after his death. Thus the miser is crowned by undying glory through his holding assets.

CONCLUSION

Requirement is a condition. Better it is to call it pre-condition. In case of love time is a pre-condition which is called attention.
